

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Heatball is a new team sport which presents a new playing field design with elevated baskets design which are use by players to score points during a game by placing a ball throught the baskets. players may wear rollerblades while playing or may play on wheelchairs or on foot. Heatball calls for players to symbolically heat up the ball by crossing an area of the heatball court with the ball this area is called a neutral zone. Heatball presents new challenges to participants such as the challenge of skating while dribbling a ball and throwing and aiming a ball while skating. New challenges which involve players jumping on ramps while throwing the ball and spinning in the air are a part of the game of heatball. This game requires stamina quickness and fast reaction on the part of the players. As a novelty Heatball will present features such as three teams participation at the same time. Heatball is an acrobactic and physical game. .